

Ed's Comments

This edition of Focal Point is certainly a joint effort. Nick and I have been very well supported by Cliff – a big thank you Cliff! He insists we write Ed's Comments this month. We'll get our own back in November I expect! Our first joint comment must be an apology to Audrey Craven who sent us her letter last month. It got missed somehow but is included in this edition. Sorry Audrey!

I have heard this year described as a "Mast Year". I puzzled for a few moments as to the meaning of the term, then thought about the thick carpet of beech mast under our copper beach tree and the bumper harvest everyone is having in their gardens and allotments and understood. What an amazing summer we have had.

I went to London to do Granny duty for the last few days of the school holidays and as I left the bustle of the city behind and travelled north by train I relaxed into the peaceful late summer scenery. I caught the bus from Northgate to Winthorpe and breathed the lovely fresh air as I got off, thinking what an attractive, friendly place Winthorpe is in which to live. These feelings were compounded by the exciting warden led RSPB walk I did round Langford Lowfields on Sunday morning and the warm welcome Nick and I received when we went as visitors to the WI meeting on Thursday to hear the excellent talk on bees.

Lots of things have happened in the village in September; the Beating of the Bounds, the beginning of the new school year, various activities and societies starting up again after the summer break and the Village Holiday. As I write this I hope reports come in telling us how all these events have gone. Do please write to us with your reports, comments and queries and thank you so much to all those who regularly do this. We can't manage without you. Keep up the good work!

W.I. Report for Thursday,
12th September 2013 Meeting

Not only was it back to school time, it was also back to W.I. after our summer break.

Due to the holiday season, attendance was smaller than usual. However, the shortfall was more than compensated by five visitors; Julie Hill, Christine Pattinson, Chris Randall and the new editors of the Focal Point, Annie Purday and Nick Wynne, they were all very welcome.

The subject of this month's meeting was 'Bees' and the speaker Chris Edge, an amateur bee-keeper gave a very interesting and fascinating insight into the "World of Bees". He brought along a selection of hives and the sort of equipment he uses when working with the bees. One of the hives was an observation hive which contained a colony, together with the Queen Bee. The Queen Bee was easy to identify as she had a white spot on her back, marked by Chris himself. Chris explained the fertilization of the Queen Bee, also droning - which involves the non-working males of the honey bee, and swarming - a cluster of bees leaving the hive with a Queen to establish a new colony.

At the end of the evening members were able to purchase jars of 'Three Counties' honey which is produced by Chris. By the amount of questions asked, the members' interest in bees had apparently been stimulated.

The vote of thanks was given by Rose Dickinson.

October's Meeting is Wet Felt Making, so come along and have a go, or have fun watching if you do not wish to participate.

The hostesses will be Dys Gold, Barbara Nelson and Liz Wilson.

GIANT SUNFLOWER COMPETITION

There are few plants that can carry an adult back to their childhood – but sunflowers do that. Towering in stature and overflowing with personality, its fabulously positive blooms charms all those who see it in our gardens. There have been many sunflowers growing in children’s gardens this year as the weather has been very good for them.

The winner of the 2013 Giant Sunflower Competition was 6 years old Kenya Holmes-Morgan with a height of 3mtrs 58cms. (11ft. 9ins.) On Thursday the 20th September, Kenya, a pupil at Winthorpe Primary School, was presented with a framed certificate to record her achievement, a First place card, a sunflower bookmark and a gift voucher.

The record set in 1999 by Jon Higgins of Langford with a height of 4mtrs. 48cms. (14ft. 6ins.) still stands.

Second was 9 years old Gracie Palmer with 3mtrs. 54cms.

Third was 7 years old Danny Davis with 3mtrs. 41cms.

Gracie and Danny were awarded Second and Third place cards and sunflower bookmarks respectively.

The following were each awarded an Award of Merit card and a sunflower bookmark.

Ethan Mason 3mtrs 5cms; Sophie Osborn 3mtrs 5cms; Chloe Allman-Wright 3mtrs 2cms; William Richardson 3mtrs; Evie Smith 2mtrs 90cm; Lily Smith 2mtrs 90cm; Florence Baker-Smith 2mtrs 76cms. Callum Jump 2mtrs 54cms; Zack Ferreira 2mtrs 52cms; Ella Rippon 2mtrs 47cms; Katie Watt 2mtrs 41cms; William Hosking 2mtrs 37cms; Imogen Loach-Martin 2mtrs 34cms; Phoebe Loach-Martin 2mtrs 34cms; Teddy Adams 2mtrs 29cms; George Adams 2mtrs 28cms; Anna Clarke 2mtrs 21cms; Ella Mae Boland 2mtrs 18 cm; Lily Threapleton 2mtrs 18cms; Nancy Threapleton 2mtrs 18cms; Katie Lifton 2mtrs 14cms; Jacob Adams 2mtrs 10cms; Wilfred Baker-Smith 2mtrs 4cms;

The teaching staff also joined in the fun and each received an Award of Merit card and a sunflower bookmark.

Former Head teacher, Mr. J. Macintyre 2mtrs 95cms; Mrs. D. Docherty 3mtrs. 5cms; Mrs. M. Allwood 2mtrs; 80cms; Miss N. Litowczyk 2mtrs 59cms; Mrs. S. Green 2mtrs. 50cms; Miss M. Blake 2mtrs 31cms.

Well done everyone.

Thank you all for entering the competition. I hoped you enjoyed growing those giant yellow daisies.

Many thanks to your teachers, parents, in some cases grandparents, for the help and encouragement they have given to you. It is often difficult to keep children's interest going over a 20-week growing period.

I have enjoyed running this competition and the kind reception which I always receive on visiting this school.

Finally, thanks to the new Head Teacher Miss C. Ementon for her co-operation in having the presentation at her school, and Cliff, who once again kindly took the photographs.

Pat Finn.

Footnote.

This is my last presentation of the Giant Sunflower Competition. The last 19 years has been a most enjoyable part of my life.

The competition will continue, I am pleased to say, under the guidance of husband and wife Charlie and Liz Ferreira. I wish them the best of luck and I hope they have the same enjoyment and satisfaction as I have had.

Many people have helped me along the way; I now wish to thank them.

Head teachers: Mike Ball, Paul Nolan, Gary Walker, Jamie Macintyre and Caron Edmenton for allowing me to have the presentations at their school.

Photographers: the late Peter Milroy, Alison Smith and Cliff Newbold who kindly took photographs of the presentations.

Focal Point Editors: the late Peter Milroy and Cliff Newbold who kindly printed my sunflower write-ups.

Barbara: my wife for her support.

And last of all, the children who entered the sunflower competitions. Without their support there wouldn't have been any competitions. From the many complementary comments I have received from you, I thank you.

THANK YOU.

Jean & I would like to say how grateful we were for all the cards, good wishes and offers of help when I had my recent operation. After a longer than anticipated stay in hospital I am now feeling fine.

We also appreciate the helpers who took on extra jobs at the last Lunch Club to cover for those of us who were absent.

Thank you so much.

CHURCH BELLS

Church bells are wonderful things. They are powerfully evocative; of times of joy and celebration, of times of crisis, as a marker of the regular passage of time, Sunday by Sunday. Church bells are more than evocative. For some they can be beautiful, for others a complete mystery, and for some a source of annoyance! In Winthorpe we are blessed with a fine set of bells which are well managed and well rung.

Bell ringing is a seriously fun activity, full of exercise, and human fellowship, for all ages working together. It is truly a craft, demanding precision, timing, listening. Indeed, all the skills required reflect the skills we all need to live life successfully, with wonder and joy.

So come and join the team of ringers. Full coaching will be given. And very soon you'll find yourself ringing in celebration of a wedding or marking Sunday worship.

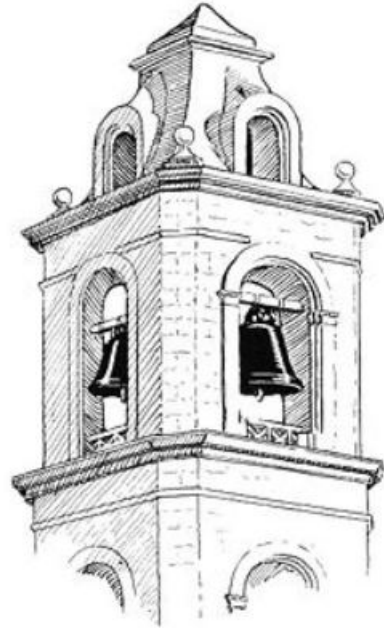

Very good wishes

Winthorpe Garden Club

ngs
gardens open
for charity

After a summer break, 36 members sat back and enjoyed a talk by Mrs. Susie Dean, a county organiser of the Lincolnshire branch of the National Gardens Scheme.

Celebrating its 85th anniversary last year, the National Gardens Scheme allows private gardeners in England and Wales to open their gardens for charity. These gardens, along with National Trust Gardens, have to show for 45 minutes a garden of quality, character and interest. Many of these gardens provide a plant sale and the welcome cup of tea and cake.

When the scheme started in 1927, 607 gardens opened, last year there were over 3,700 gardens, all advertised in the National Gardens Scheme 'Yellow Book.'

The money raised goes to various charities, such as:-

Marie Curie Cancer Care; Macmillan Cancer Care and Support; Crossroads Care; Hospices and also to any charity proposed by the individual owner, of which no more than 20% may be given. Besides these charitable causes some of the money raised goes to a garden apprenticeship scheme. Working together with the National Trust the scheme offers gardeners the opportunity to study for qualifications leading to a Diploma in Heritage Gardening. In 2012, Lincolnshire provided 18 young men and women the opportunity of a career in gardening.

Last year the National Gardens Scheme donated £3m to charities and the Lincolnshire branch £42,000.

Our next meeting is on the 16th October, the speaker will be Ian Justice, husband of one of our members, whose subject is Growing Vegetables, Good Enough to Eat.

Pat Finn.

We recently hosted a very successful 'bat and moth night' here at Langford Lowfields with 20 species of moth and four bat species recorded. The wind and rain subsided just in time for dusk and the UK's largest bat species – the noctule bat – to come out and begin its nightly hunt over the reserve. As the bat walk progressed the bat detector also picked up pipistrelle, daubentons and, finally, brown long-eared bats. The walk concluded with the moth trapping and species included dusky thorn, scalloped oak and large wainscot to name but a few.

The continuing warm, sunny weather has been perfect for butterflies with a recent mass emergence of small tortoiseshell butterflies at the end of the month. The immigrant clouded yellow butterflies are still around in record-breaking (for Langford) numbers and there have been sightings of the elusive Adonis and two-spot ladybirds, both species have not been recorded here since early spring.

Around the lagoons we have had a nice collection of large gulls including great and lesser black-backed, both green and common sandpiper, dunlin and a ruff. There have also been sightings of a female marsh harrier and two hobbies but, most exciting of all; we have had the first confirmed sighting of a bittern since March. The woodland has also offered up excitement with a sparrowhawk chasing a very vocal green woodpecker, both hurtling in and out of the trees until the sparrowhawk finally gave up.

The volunteers have been working hard as always, this month they have been installing the previously prepared floating fish shelters and the newly propagated reed plants have now been planted out within the safety of the fenced off areas in phase 2. Their hard work was justly rewarded by the sighting of a handsome juvenile cuckoo flying overhead.

Don't forget you can have special access onto the reserve on one of our guided walks. The next walk is on Sunday 13th October from 10.00am – 12.30pm. Please book by calling the office on 01636 893611 and certainly bring good footwear! The Budget Challenge

Making tough decisions together

We urge you to have your say so the right choices are made on the things that matter to you, your family and your business.

Nottinghamshire County Council is being forced to save £154m*, as a result of Government cuts and rising demand for services.

The reality is that all options will need to be considered. Many Council services will be reduced or delivered differently.

This is the most difficult budget challenge ever faced by the Council. We're committed to listening to you to help us plan how our reduced budget will be spent.

Torksey to Newark in September aboard n.b. Mulberry

Back in August I told you about our trip down to West Stockwith. Today I thought I should tell you about coming back home. In order to catch the upward surge of the incoming tide we had to be up at five o'clock and ready ourselves and our narrow boat, 'Mulberry', for the journey from Torksey to Newark. We had moored overnight below the lock where the pontoons floated on the ever changing water level. It was still dark, the early light still only a promise in the skies east of Torksey. We ate a quick breakfast and then crept outside to prepare the boat and start the engine. We were aware of others still sleeping so decided to warm the motor with a gentle ten minute run in the main stream of the river. The water was already creeping up the muddy banks to show the tide was coming in.

On our first bend we saw evidence of an early bird fisherman although he was still asleep in his tent. On round a series of tight bends to Butlers Island where we could see a sand bar on the right hand side. More fishermen waved to us and lights came on in houses at Laneham. Here at Laneham two fishermen were stood thigh-deep in the water. The wind that had cooled us the day before was not evident, the sky was pink with soft puffs of cloud overhead and the fish were leaping: all very romantic.

We added more speed, taking us from the initial gentle 5 kph to seven point five and probably the best we could hope for on the weak neap tidal flow. However, we were soon out of the hidden danger zone at Laneham and heading towards Dunham Bridge where we navigated the left portal. Our map warned us of shoals under the cliff at Dunham Dubbs and we saw the new reservoir intake just beyond and then on to Fledborough with another sharp turn and a twist.

The first boat down the river passed us just after eight and thirty minutes later two cruisers overtook us going towards Cromwell Lock. We were still managing 6 kph despite the fact that the 'flood' ended just before Carlton and since then we had been driving against the 'fresh' river water coming downstream. Our 1.6 litre Izuzu diesel engine pushed us on. At nine o'clock hot sausage sandwiches and coffee sustained us. A pair of swans showed off their agility and speed by keeping up with us for a short way and more fishermen appeared, walking out, pushing their loads of tents, tackle and rods on carts across the fields and onto the spits of sand that formed on the bends. There are so many fishermen here that we guess a competition must be underway.

At Collingham Lane End we radioed in to the lock keeper who promised to ready the Cromwell Lock for us. In the water below Cromwell weir there was a dredger working hard to clear sand from the river, even on a Sunday morning. We skirted around the back of the sand barge and used the force of the weir to push us over and into the lock mouth. Twenty minutes later we emerged at the top into the relative safety of the river leading us up to Winthorpe Rack and Nether Lock before Newark and an early lunch.

NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH UPDATE

in the Newsletter issued in July the Bassetlaw and Newark and Sherwood Neighbourhood Watch Association has ceased to exist. There are plans to form a Newark & District Association. A preliminary meeting of Co-ordinators from the area has been held but it will take a little while before the necessary arrangements can be made. I have recently registered with the Nottinghamshire Alert scheme operated by Nottinghamshire Police. This provides frequent information by email on crime in the area and other matters of general interest. It seems to be more useful than the old Ringmaster system that no longer exists for our area. If you would like to receive copies of relevant information please send your email address to peterfoden@btinternet.com and I will forward it to you as I receive it. Alternatively you can register with the scheme at <https://www.nottinghamshirealert.co.uk/> to receive the information direct. For those who do not use the internet I will put copies of the information on the notice board near the Post Office.

ALL SAINTS WINTHORPE

CHURCH NOTICES

Hi there

Just after the closing date for submissions for September Focal Point on 23 August 2013 Hayley & Samuel Bunch were married. We extend our love and good wishes for a long and happy married life

Peter Foden has had a rough time health wise, but I am so pleased to note he is up and about and on the mend.

On Sunday 15 September Albert Dennis Salmon was baptised and we welcome him into the family of Christ. Our best wishes go out to him and his family and supporters.

What about Beating the Bounds? It was a truly wonderful day – at Winthorpe breakfast was again highly spoken of – well done Sharon, Joan & Sylvia with their band of helpers Harry, Anna, Amy, Rebecca & Liam – it was nice to see youngsters helping!

This year All Saints have taken part in “Ride & Stride” thanks to Steve Lord.

Remembrance Day will soon be here, we are all prepared. If you have a veteran friend or relation who has died and you would like them adding to the Veterans list let me have their name, service and / or regiment to 703271.

Sadly we are experiencing a small problem in the Garden of Remembrance where the cremated ashes are laid. I’ve had a complaint that the walk ways at the top and bottom of the plaques are being obstructed by flower receptacles. Could I please ask that you consider others and keep the walk way clear? We’ve spoken to a few people and they have kindly obliged – please can you all.

Lastly, a special thank you to David Woodcock for keeping the edge of the path all nice and tidy!
